

Classifying

This set of cards can be used in a number of ways.

One possible activity might be to ask learners to sort the cards into different categories and define the categories used.

Classifying using two-way tables

Another possible activity involves a two-way table like the one below.

Learners are asked to place the cards in the appropriate place on the table discussing the choices in their groups.

	No rotational symmetry	Rotational symmetry
No lines of symmetry
One or two lines of symmetry
More than two lines of symmetry
